Brilliant Cut Glass.

Glassware is obtainable to-day at reasonable cost. And the variety of shapes and cuttings is far greater than that of a few years ago, when there were but half a dozen or so factories. High-cost Cut Glass is yet to be had—if one wishes to buy it—but the quality represented is no better than the product of many other factories who market their output upon a modern basis. No one factory can maintain a monopoly of selected, perfect blanks or individual skill, whether of the designer, the cutter at the frame, or the finisher—and this combination is the whole of the Cut Glass Story. Only first quality, in the newest designs and shapes, represented in our stock.

DISMISSAL COMMUTED.

Loss of Sixty Numbers Substituted by Secretary of Navy.
The Secretary of the Navy has commuted the sentence of dismissal imposed by court-martial upon First Lieut. B. S. Berry, U. S. M. C., to a loss of sixty numbers. Lieut. Berry was tried at the marine barracks at Port Royal, S. C., recently on the charges growing out of the excessive use of intoxicants.

He was found guilty and sentenced to be dismissed. Several members of the court, however, recommended that the department be lenient in reviewing the case. The effect of the loss of sixty numbers will be to reduce him to nearly the foot of his grade. He is a native of Pennsylvania, and entered the Marine Corps in 1904. He formerly served at the New York Navy Yard.

EPWORTH LEAGUE OPENS CONVENTION

Rev. Dr. Swift, of Baltimore, Makes Address.

"By exercise of the genius that he possessed" was the way in which the celebrity in any line of rare attainment achieved his famous triumphs, said Rev. Dr. Polemus H. Swift, of Baltimore, who made the address last night before the Washington District Epworth League convention.

He was stating "the mission of the Epworth League," and by various other comparisons illustrated his main point that the mission he discussed was to give occasion for the exercise of the native capacities of young people in church activities.

The convention is in session at the Hamline Methodist Episcopal Church, Ninth and P street northwest, and is the twentieth in the history of the District League.

Special Features Contributed.
Dr. Guthrie's church was well filled at the opening services last night, which were abundantly musical in character. Special features being contributed by the Hamline League Choir Club, young ladies attired in white, who occupied a position on the platform. At 7 o'clock a reception of delegates was held in the Sunday school room.

Herbert L. Halter led a service of song at 7:30 o'clock, and the session at 8 o'clock in the auditorium was opened with prayer by Rev. W. W. Barnes, pastor of the Douglas Memorial Church.

The main work of the convention will be that of to-day's session. The convention will close next Sunday.

REPRESENT TWELVE NATIONS.

Indians with Wild West Show Denizens of Prairie.

Indians with 101 Ranch Wild West show, which will be here next Monday and Tuesday are wild denizens of the prairie and forest who still adhere to buckskin garb, adorn the walls of their lodges with the Sacred Bundles, and guard the household from invisible enemies by the buffalo shield which hangs on its tripod back of the primitive home.

They represent a dozen Indian nations, and include papooses and their mothers, radiant belles and beauties of the wigwam, wrinkled warriors, and renowned chiefs.

Crooked Nose is one of the conspicuous braves. He is the champion bow-and-arrow shot of the Comanche Indian nation, and has earned the title in competition with all the famous men of his tribe.

Yellow with ochre, red with vermilion, stained with every decorative device in the art catalogue of the plains, their spotted ponies shining with all the colors of the redbird rainbow, the Indians form a gorgeous cavalcade in the street parade which will be given Monday forenoon.

Guests are invited to visit the kindergarten class which has been established for the children in the home by the ladies of the Peirce Guild, and which will be in progress during the afternoon.

Should the weather not permit of an outdoor fete, the reception and sale will be held in the parlors of the home.

The latest types of submarine vessels make a speed of from eight to ten miles an hour.

Cultivating Slimness.

Fat women must take this injunction to heart if they want to be in style, for the new modes will not drape over a fat figure.

The fat has got to come off quickly, but without harm, of course, and this means only one thing can be depended upon. Exercising or dieting are too slow.

The fat woman who wants to wear a form-fitting gown must make an immediate trip to her druggist and get a case of Marmole Prescription Tablets, which will cost her about 75 cents.

Taking one of these after each meal and at bedtime should be enough to bring her to the "losing-a-pound-a-day" stage before even the first case is used up. It is hardly believable that such delightful results can be obtained without harm and for such a small sum of money, but then, fact is stronger than fiction.

Test the effect of these tablets by getting a case yourself, either from the Marmole Co., 327 Farmer Bldg., Detroit, Mich., or from any druggist. They are made in exact accordance with the famous Marmole Prescription, and consequently, cannot have any ill effects.

HONOR FOR BARNEY

Columbia Historical Society to Ask for Statue.

"HERO OF BLADENSBURG"

President Morgan Directed to Ask Congress for Appropriation and to Present Memorial Adopted by Organization—Memorandum of Sympathy on Death of King Passed.

Members of Columbia Historical Society gathered at the Shoreham last night and directed the president, Dr. James Dudley Morgan, to ask Congress for a statue of Commodore Joshua Barney, "the hero of the battle of Bladensburg."

Dr. Morgan will appoint a committee to take the proper steps. The society's memorial, which this committee will submit to Congress as adopted at the meeting, is drafted in the following terms:

Memorial to Congress.

Whereas it is the duty of the American historian to keep alive the fire of patriotism and rescue from oblivion "lost heroes," the glorious deeds of the men, who, in the infant days of our republic, sacrificed their lives in behalf of freedom, and Whereas the unparallelled achievement of Commodore Joshua Barney have never received commensurate recognition at the Nation's Capital, therefore, be it

Resolved by the Columbia Historical Society, That it herewith submits its respectful petition to the United States Congress, to make an appropriation, sufficient in amount for the purpose of erecting a suitable monument to the memory of this heroic seaman, upon the Pennsylvania avenue, known as public reservations numbers 35 and 36, which shall hereafter be officially designated as Commodore Barney Circle.

A paper on "The hero of the battle of Bladensburg," showing exhaustive historical research, was read by Michael I. Weller, and will be published with several portraits of Commodore Barney and battle scene plans.

C. C. McGrudder stated that hulls of Commodore Barney's ships may be seen at low water in the Patuxent River, at Pigs Point. Two granddaughters of the commodore, Miss Nannie Barney and Mrs. Thomas Holcomb, were present.

It was decided that future meetings be held on the third Tuesday in the month, beginning with November, at the Washington Club, 170 I street northwest.

New members reported were Miss M. P. Davis, William C. Borden, William Corcoran Eustis, William King, Philip Lerner, and J. Miller Kenyon.

A "memorandum of sympathy and sorrow on the death of King Edward" was adopted, speaking of him as "a worthy successor to his noble mother," and as having "strengthened the bonds of amity between the two great English-speaking nations."
